CCC Inquiry at Shire of Exmouth

The Corruption and Crime Commission (CCC) released a statement yesterday that they had continued an inquiry into possible misconduct at the Shire of Exmouth.

According to the CCC website, the decision to start an investigation does not mean that there has been any wrongdoing.

The investigation's purpose is to establish whether or not there is proof to substantiate any allegations.

Council is providing full cooperation to the CCC, but is not in a position to provide any information at this stage.
