BOOK REVIEW

Trippin' With Kids

by Peter and Bridgett Hellier

In the wake of the coronavirus, travel is slowly becoming possible again. School drop-offs shouldn't be the only epic adventures you tackle with your kids. Comedian Peter Hellier (The Project, Who Do You Think You Are? How to Stay Married) and his wife Bridget draw on years of experience and share their tips and tricks for how to plan, organise and execute a great family holiday – whether it's a weekend camping trip or a month-long trip to New Zealand.

Trippin' with Kids is your (totally legal and not-at-all hallucinogenic) entry to the happy rainbow of travel experiences parents can enjoy with their kids, from babies to the teens.

Learn some fool-proof packing methods, ways to keep costs down and general tips on how to maintain both your sanity and sense of humour, and find all of the best kid-friendly attractions without resorting to a pricey play centre. This book will help you discover (and rediscover) places around Australia and the world, just like you did before you had kids.
